

CAJUN STUD

Rules of Play

Game Description

Cajun Stud (the "Game") is a house-banked, poker-based, card game played with a standard 52-card deck of playing cards. The object of the Game is for the player to achieve a poker hand that triggers a winning event against a payable. Cajun Stud also contains several optional bonus wagers, which are won if a player's hand achieves a predetermined winning event posted on the corresponding paytables.

Ante and Play Wagers

1. To begin the game, each player must make an Ante wager. Each player may also place an optional Pocket Bonus, Board Bonus, Lo Ball, or an All Six wager.
2. The first four cards dealt from the shoe are given to the dealer and placed in the designated All Six card square. The dealer will then slide the top 3 cards face down to the center of the table into the 3 squares for designated for the community cards. The fourth card will remain in the designated All Six box.
3. Each player then receives two hole cards, face down. Each player will use the 3 community cards to form their own five card poker hands.
4. After examining their two hole cards, each player must then decide to do one of the following:
 - a. Players may choose to place a Raise wager. This wager must be 1x, 2x, or 3x their original Ante wager. After all wagers have been placed the player's two cards shall be placed face down in front of the betting area closest to the Dealer.

OR

 - b. Players may choose to Fold. If a player Folds they surrender their Ante wager. If the Player chooses to Fold and had previously placed an optional side wager the player's cards should be tucked under one of the optional side wager bets. These bets will be reconciled at the completion of the hand.
5. The dealer reveals the first community card.

CAJUN STUD
